MONDAY, MARCH 11, 1912.

A Seattle contractor wants to put in a new waterworks system for Edmonton. He must have been reading about the kind of a service we have been getting from the present system.

Ontario is giving MacKenzie & Mann 4000 acres of land per mile as a railway bonus. Ontario is governed by the Conservative party, and Governments of that party have always been good at "turning over" the public domain to anybody but the public.

The Calgary Herald thinks that "Beyond the fact that capital" "has been held up on the crop" "longer than farmers is desirable, there is nothing to be said" "present conditions to warrant" "any unusual complaints." It is not to the Herald a matter of any importance at all that the farmer when able to sell his grain is obliged to accept a price of one per bushel less than the price in Minneapolis, less freight. The only unpleasant feature it sees in the situation is that the farmer has not been able to get the small price as soon as may have been desirable, and has, therefore, not been able to pay his bills to the merchant and the implement dealer as early as he would have been paid. For the farmer the Herald is not at all concerned; only for those to whom the farmer owes money.

The Toronto News is now referring to the Nationalist with a "tyrannical minority." That the phrase fits there can be no doubt. Of course Mr. Bourassa is a tyrant. Why should he not be? The things he stands for he believes in, and he has no notion of allowing the Imperialist world to run things to suit themselves and so defeat his cause. He is in a wrong with his followers. On Mr. Bourassa's statement, it was not the man who proposed the alliance. The offer of negotiation came from the other side. Mr. Bourassa was the man who help was wanted. Mr. Bourassa: the man who wanted it. He "came in" knowing that without him Mr. Borden could not win; and that if Mr. Borden won, he would be in a position to dominate things. What blame to him if he does so? More, his hold upon the Premier is stronger now than a few months ago. Mr. Borden found himself after the elections with a majority large enough that he could afford to ignore Mr. Bourassa's claims for recognition and mastery. But he did not do that. He did it for some reason, most likely because to offend Bourassa would mean that Borden would tell him that he knew of the alliance, and who proposed it, and on what terms it was made. This would have driven the Imperialist wing from Mr. Borden, while the Nationalists would have struck the war-post immediately. But Mr. Borden is now in a worse position to make a show of independence than just after the election. If he should have been dangerous to shake Mr. Bourassa then, it is far more dangerous to throw him down now; he would be more angry at the humiliation of his lieutenants, and his disclosures would be more dangerous. The News will just have to put up with Mr. Bourassa and his friends whether it likes this way or not. Bourassa is boss and means to be. If the News does not like it, the News may turn independent again.

CALLING HALT.

Senator Bell, in speaking the congestion in the grain movement, enlightened the Upper House at Ottawa in this way: "It is not a fact, when we get to the bottom of it, that the congestion that exists in the North-West Territory is to a large extent created by the people themselves, that they are making 'voluntarily' a situation—'voluntarily'—in which wheat as it is sometimes described—without any regard to the means by which they are 'going to market the grain' they are 'suggested in ploughing'—'bringing up thirty acres a day' of virgin soil, doubling their crop, without making any calculation as to the means by which their product will be put 'on the market.' The idea of the Senator is one to which some of the Ministers have already given expression; that the western farmers should be dissuaded against breaking up new lands and so increasing the annual wheat crop of the Dominion. So far as the results are concerned, there is no particular difference between breaking up new lands and cropping and leaving a piece of wild land uncropped. If the farmers do not sow a million acres of land upon which crops have been formerly grown the price to the country is not greater than if they deal bringing into cultivation a million acres of new prairie. The Ministers and their friends might therefore with quite as much reason, and quite as wisely, recommend the western farmer to leave his broken land uncropped as to hold back from breaking up new land. And supposing the farmers did so, what the whole rural population between the lakes and the mountains gave up cultivation and for a solid year "calculated" on the best way of getting wheat from the prairie to the Old World, would the farmers and the country be better off or worse? And where in the new scheme of things would the Ministers come in? At present these gentlemen are paid rather handsomely to do the "calculating" about markets and transportation, while the farmer does the breaking. When they appeal to the farmer to stop breaking, what does that imply but that they have not been doing their share of the work, and that they see no prospect of being able to properly accommodate the country crop which the farmer's industry is bringing along every year? That, unfortunately for the country, is the position in which the Ministers and their friends are at Ottawa this morning. They succeeded in preventing the doors to the south being opened to allow the wheat to go out in that direction, but it is one thing to shut a door and another thing to open other doors. They have opened other doors to the south which they have deflected reciprocity to find something as good in the way of a market, and to provide the means of reaching it. What they think of the chances may be judged from the fact that they are warning the farmer to suspend his enterprise and not undertake any broader operations. They would not do this if they saw a prospect of finding a gettable market for him.

THE STORM-CLOUD IN THE WEST
Toronto Globe—All talk of the separation of Western Canada from Eastern Canada, and the consequent separation is one of the questions. It is reasonable. Were it reasonable, it would be unwise and impracticable. It would not serve the best and enduring interests of the west. Canada is one. There must be no dividing line between the east and the west. All the provinces must get their strength and their glory not in the things that divide and isolate, but in the community of interests and of life that organize them for nation. No, there must be no separation given to any divisive movement.

The first blame for those separatist declarations rests not with the separatists, but with the separatists and not with the discredited and complaining thousands in all the provinces, but with the separatists, the separatists in the east that gave occasion for this nation. No, there must be no separation given to any divisive movement.

with no shelter through the winter but a tarpaulin. That wheat is the reward of a year's toil and the hope of another year's chance. That wheat ought to have been marketed months ago. But the railways were blocked. No one could get out of a hundred that were needed. The wheat was sold at a loss and to be sold at half its value. With the coming of spring more than half its value will be lost. And someone rebukes the farmer for not selling his wheat. How can he, his credit is exhausted at the store, his notes for farm implements are falling due, and the prospect for another season and harvest are worse than when he began. The trader of it is that his words feed no children and pay no debts.

And that prairie farmer in the black days of his despair relates his misfortune to the organized dealer in the grain. He is not a member of the financial corporations back of those interests, and the railway companies that were unequal to their task. He remembers how the protected big interests joined hand-with-hand to keep the Minneapolis market closed to his wheat. He is not mollified by delayed reductions in freight rates because they have raised his wheat and the American duty against it still stands at twenty-five cents a bushel. It does not ease his mind to be told by the railway officials that he should go to mixed farming. His contention is not restored when he reads of "melting-out" by the railway corporation that failed him in his hour of need. And when he figures out what it would have meant to him if the transportation facilities been adequate and had Ontario considered the practical question on September 21 neither his temper nor his pity stands the impertinence of the minister who threw the name of Providence.

The thunder is not drawn out of the country is not greater than if they deal bringing into cultivation a million acres of new prairie. The Ministers and their friends might therefore with quite as much reason, and quite as wisely, recommend the western farmer to leave his broken land uncropped as to hold back from breaking up new land. ## Has Harry V. Radford Been Forsaken By His Guides in the Barren Lands.

New York, N.Y., Mar. 9.—Harry V. Radford, arctic explorer, member of the American Geographical Society and member of the Arctic Club, who left this city on February 12th, 1907, to engage in four years of exploration, and hunting in Northern Canada, is reported to have been forsaken by his guides in the heart of the Barren Lands, between Chesterfield Inlet, on the northern end of Hudson Bay and Great Bear Lake, about 500 miles inland. He is believed to have been left without provisions and for is expected for his welfare. A letter written by A. J. Bell, Canadian government agent at Fort Smith, telling of Radford's plight, reached the Arctic Club here today. The letter was dated January 15th last. Bell said he had received word that the two Indians hired by Radford last summer to accompany him for one year to the Barren Lands had visited Fort Resolution last month, and stated that they had deserted Radford last fall, owing to a disagreement as to terms.

Radford has twice visited Edmonton since he went north from here in 1902. The last time he came into the city he brought with him the hide and bones of a giant wood bison, which he shot in the vicinity of Fort Smith. It will be remembered that the advance notices of Radford's intention to explore the north country stated that he intended to make an effort to reach the North Pole from here. The dispatch read that he would "Leave Edmonton in June, travelling with dogs and on snowshoes, and taking with him, as food, concentrated chocolate, on which he will subsist during his sojourn in the wilderness."

SUBMIT PROPOSAL FOR ARTIFICIAL GAS PLANT

P. Burns and T. W. Lines Make Offer to Establish Works.
OFFER GAS AT $1.00 PER 1,000 CUBIC FEET
Guarantee to Complete Works and Distribute Gas by November.

The mayor and city commissioners have received a proposition to establish an artificial gas plant in Edmonton. The men behind the enterprise are P. Burns, the millionaire packer, who is also the largest shareholder in the Calgary gas company, Calgary, and T. W. Lines, president of the Edmonton Lumbering and Milling company. They will agree to fix the minimum price of gas at $1.00 per 1,000 cubic feet, with a discount of 10 per cent for cash.

Alfred Lines and Burns say they will guarantee to complete the new plant before November 15, and if the proposition is accepted by May 1. They will also agree to sell the plant to the city after a period of fifteen years. The proposal is for gas for fuel and cooking purposes. The interest received by the commissioners Saturday is as follows: Grantsman—Acting for Mr. T. W. Lines of Edmonton, and Mr. P. Burns, of Calgary, we beg to submit to your honorable body and through you to the council a proposition for the immediate establishment in the city of an adequate plant for the manufacture and supply to the citizens of artificial luminous gas for heating purposes. The names of our clients are sufficient, we know to make it unnecessary for us to assure you that this proposition, we are asking leave to bring before the council, exactly what in terms imports without any statement, and that our clients have the present ability, means and intention to carry it through. The letter if given the opportunity to do so.

The broad lines of our clients' proposition are as follows: 1.—They will deposit to the credit of the City Treasurer, or other proper municipal officer, the sum of not less than $50,000, as an evidence of their intention and ability to carry out their part of the bargain, the disposition of this sum after such intention and ability is made apparent beyond question to be a matter of adjustment with the city.

2.—If their proposition is accepted by or before the 1st day of May, 1912, they will guarantee to erect and complete on or before the 15th day of November, 1912, a completely new plant capable of supplying artificial luminous gas at a suitable pressure and of adequate heating quality to at least 1,000 consumers and through at least five (5) miles of mains and will guarantee to be in a position to supply the gas to the consumers on or before the 15th day of November, 1912.

3.—They will agree that the maximum price at which gas shall be delivered at the plant shall be fixed at $1.00 per 1,000 cubic feet, and as the quality of gas furnished increases this price is to be reduced to such price or prices may be agreed upon. On these terms will be given a discount of ten (10) per cent.

SIX MEN LOSE LIVES IN FIRE IN CHICAGO

Leading House Fire Results Fatal—Strong Probability That Twice as Many More Bodies May be Found When Building Can be Entered.

Chicago, Ill., Mar. 9.—Six men lost their lives in a fire which attacked a Clark street lodging house here today and there is a strong probability that more than twice that number of bodies will be found on the upper floors when the firemen can enter the building. One of the six, Thomas McMahon, a painter, jumped to his death from the fourth story and the bodies of the others were found where they had been suffocated or burned to death.

IS A HAND OUT TO MANITOBA BECAUSE OF MISMANAGEMENT

Financial Terms of Boundary Bill Are Thus Described by Opposition.

HON. MR. OLIVER MAKES VERY STRONG PROTEST

Manitoba Relinquishing Valuable Land Because of Exigencies Of the Present.

Bulletin Special.
Ottawa, Mar. 9.—The greater part of another day was spent in the House of Commons on the Manitoba boundary bill today. The attempt of A. A. Mendon, Nationalist member for Kamaska, to pass an amendment safeguarding the separate school rights of the Manitoba minority, found only four supporters, as was not voted upon.

An amendment dealing with the subsidy and swamp lands was moved by Hon. Frank Oliver. He argued that Manitoba was given her swamp lands to secure their reclamation, not their sale. He read a resolution in the Manitoba legislature, moved by Hon. Robert Rogers, last the province wanted to drain them in order to improve the condition of settlers on adjoining lands.

If they were to be treated as a mere cash asset, then the province was not getting enough for the total annual increase to the province under the new offer was $624,000. In order to get this cash increase it was necessary to give up the swamp lands.

The federal government's offer in 1911 was two hundred thousand dollars annually, and the lands allowed to be kept. The difference between the offers was $484,000 annually in cash, as against the value of the swamp lands. Hon. Mr. Armstrong, provincial treasurer of Manitoba, in his 1912 budget speech, placed the area of swamp lands at five and a half million acres, which he valued at sixteen million dollars. At five per cent, this gave annually $800,000. The province therefore lost $314,000 and gave up an asset, which, according to the provincial treasurer of Manitoba, was worth eight hundred thousand annually.

W. M. Martin, of Regina, and Robert Cruise, of Dauphin, laid stress on the same point. Mr. Martin said it was a hand out to Manitoba because the provincial government needed it, so it was hard up through mismanagement.

Resolution of Sorrow.
London, Mar. 9.—The Irish party in parliament yesterday passed a resolution of profound sorrow for the death of their beloved colleague, Lord Blake, one of the greatest, and most illustrious Irishmen of our times, and we record their deep sorrow. Invaluable services he rendered the cause of Ireland at a time of terrible difficulty.

IS UNSOUND HORSES SHOT.

Bunch Brought Over From U. S. Destroyed at Wearyton.
Moore, Jan. 8, Sask. Mar. 9.—Word has been received here that Thursday at Wearyton nineteen horses were shot in accordance with the Dominion law regarding infected horses coming from the United States four days ago. Detachment of that town, brought 57 horses over the line through Port, having purchased them in the United States and showing a clean bill from the United States veterinary office. Permission was granted for bringing the horses on to Wearyton and have them examined by the government veterinary at that point, instead of at North Portal. When tested upon arrival, 19 of them, described as unsound, were found to be glanders, and were forthwith condemned. The others not being satisfactory, are held in the quarantine under suspicion. Reichel immediately appealed to the Hon. Martin Burrell at Ottawa and to the Regina authorities for a permit, but in vain, and the law was enforced.

HAYTIAN TYRANT IS CONDEMNED TO DEATH

General Jules Coleau, Former Military Commander At Port-au-Prince, Will Pay Penalty For Murder of Three Brothers and Others in 1908.

Port-au-Prince, Haiti, March 8.—Gen. Jules Coleau, former military tyrant of Haiti, was condemned to death by a jury in the criminal court, on a charge of having been the principal author of the fusillade of March 18, 1908, in which ten persons, including three of his own brothers, were shot to death. Accusations of General Coleau were acquitted. The date of the execution has not been settled.

General Jules Coleau, who was at the time of the outbreak in Port-au-Prince, in 1908, military commander of the district, was chiefly known for his tyrannical character. He was at that time known as a thoroughly bad man, and he was known to all white people, and he threatened to wipe out the heads of all his enemies. He is absolutely filthy and while he was in office he was a real terror in signing documents. He betrayed his brother-in-law, and he betrayed his brother-in-law, and he betrayed his brother-in-law.

SUFFRAGETTES ARE MAKING THE FUR FLY IN HOLLOWAY JAIL

Women Sentenced to Hard Labor Refuse to Don the Prison Garb.

AMERICAN GIRL ONE OF THE MOST VIOLENT

At Given Signal They Quit Work and Smash Up Their Machines.

London, Mar. 9.—Although the authorities have done their utmost to suppress all news from Holloway jail, where the militant suffragettes, convicted of window smashing, are serving their terms at hard labor, it has become known that violent incidents have taken place between the female wardens and the prisoners, owing to the refusal of the latter to don the prison dress. One of the ringleaders in the revolt was Miss Alice Wright, of Albany, N.Y., who is undergoing a two months' imprisonment.

The female attendant of Holloway prison are chosen for their muscular ability rather than for good looks, and they started to compel the prisoners to alter the prison rules, but two of the wardresses had their clothing torn almost completely from their bodies, and they had to use fetters to subdue the suffragettes and make them take their baths and put on the prison uniforms.

Made to New Rules.
Afterwards when the suffragettes leaders were ordered into the work room to sew jackets in accordance with the prison rules and the terms of their sentence, another row followed. The prisoners had beaten of the street rioting, under the conspiracy act, and were exceedingly angry.

At a given signal all of the suffragettes jumped up. Those who were working at machines, tore them apart as well as they could without tools, and for a time the entire workroom was in an uproar. Finally the wardresses regained control of the situation. The suffragettes were returned to their cells and shortly after the prisoner governor ordered all of the rioting leaders in the disturbance placed in solitary confinement where it is understood they still are.

Solitary Confinement.
Solitary confinement is extremely severe under the rules of Holloway prison. The solitary cells are underground and are dismal places. It is said that they are very cold. While the female militant leaders consider the hard labor portion necessary, are entitled to no privileges and cannot be seen by any one until they have completed their term.

The Alberta seven should be decidedly encouraging to amateur hockey in Saskatchewan. In that province the amateur game has had to struggle for an existence against a professional league. Their win from the Regina team, which is playing the first brand of the game and should next year drive the professional league out of existence. There is no excuse for the existence of a professional league such as exists in Saskatchewan. If professional is to deserve public support it must be a great improvement over the amateur game.
